

Note on Code Availability:

The Android application developed during the internship was created for a company that does not permit the public disclosure of its proprietary code due to confidentiality policies. As a result, the project code cannot be uploaded to a public GitHub repository or shared externally.

This has been discussed and approved by the project guide, Dr. Shrabanti Mandal, who has agreed that the attached project report (PDF) will serve as the official submission in place of a public code repository.